A proposal that the state terminal elevator and mill under construction at Grand Forks be leased to the American Farm Bureau's wheat pool agency when completed, and not operated by the state, is the subject of considerable discussion in the monthly statement of the Bank of North Dakota, issued today.

Possibility that the plant will be state-owned but that the state-operated feature will be dropped and the mill made just a cog in the co-operative national scheme has aroused considerable comment throughout the state as a news fact and as indicating a relinquishment of one of the corner stones of the league program.

Urges Bond Sale

Urging the sale of elevator bonds to permit completion of the plant the bank statement says that "from the immediate, practical point of view, the North Dakota mill and elevator plant is the only one that the new organization (United Grain Growers Inc.), has any certain prospect of being able to secure, and that can be put into commission in time to handle this year's crop. The plant at Grand Forks has a capacity of 1,659,400 bushels. It will be able to handle 480,000 bushels every 24 hours, and if grain were transferred at only one third this rate, it could handle twice the volume of the 1920 wheat crop in North Dakota grain handled by the state-owned plant could be sold through the national sales agency with as great facility as though the elevator were owned by the national organization."

TRAIL OF AUTO THIEVES LEADS FROM MINOT TO BISMARCK;
TWO AUTOS RECOVERED HERE

The trail of the Minot auto thieves led to Bismarck, and two stolen automobiles sold to local people were recovered.

States Attorney O. B. Herigstad, and Chief of Police L. E. Byrne, of Minot, returned to that city this afternoon after finding the cars they sought here.

Both automobiles were Buicks, stolen in Minot and sold to innocent purchasers here. It is understood the local men paid about $1,200 each for the cars, and their chances of recovering any of the money are not very good.

The Minot officials were reticent in discussing the work of the auto thieves in that city. Since the police began rounding them up about 15 automobiles have been recovered, and seven or eight men placed under arrest on charges of stealing cars.

Not all of the cars were stolen in Minot. Some of them were stolen in Minneapolis, South Dakota and other cities and states and taken to Minot, presumably for use in whiskey running. Some have been sold in various places in the state, some of the cars being recovered in cities and in towns.

The Minot officials received "tips" from local police in the case, and received co-operation of local officials.

PROWLER BACK IN JAIL AFTER SHORT ABSENCE

Man Who Escaped Is Captured
by Police and Again Lodged
In Jail

The prowler is back in jail again, and probably will stay quite a while. His liberty was short-lived but he apparently had a good time while he was out 48 hours or so.

It developed that the man, Arthur Schroer, who is a musician of considerable ability, and presents a good appearance, went to the Catholic church immediately after his disappearance and remained there for quite a while. He then went around the Soo line depot, before he got far away from the church he took Father Hiltner's raincoat from an automobile, the raincoat contained an initialed case which was found on the man.

Schroer then visited the Presbyterian church. This was his second visit to the church, it developed. A week ago Sunday night, before he was captured the first time, he appeared during a Christian Endeavor meeting. He was greeted by Rev. Ed. Hiltner and remained there, but some of his remarks seemed rather queer.

Visited Church Again.
The other afternoon he visited the church while a social was being held and there was considerable silver and other valuables around. He represented himself as an electrician, made himself generally useful and loaned a lady 25 cents to put in the gas meter. Pretending to borrow a tool for use in work at the church he visited Schaecker's residence, next door. Later he stole $35 from there, police say.

Later the man is said to have returned to the church and it appeared he cooked a meal in the kitchen.

Followed Chief Home.
When Chief of Police Martinson returned from Minneapolis at midnight Friday night he followed him home in the train. He was traced to the "jammer" house by police last evening and arrested. He told the chief he followed him home intending to give himself up, but lost his nerve.

After he escaped a note was found addressed to the chief, thanking him for having treated him courteously when he was arrested, and he said at night he regretted having escaped during the chief's absence from the city. Police feared the man would do himself bodily harm, after finding the note.

Buffalo, May 21.—Twenty men masked and armed held up a freight train on the New York Central near North Tonawanda early today and carried away silks, shoes, clothing, automobiles tires and other freight, estimated at $70,000. Six motor trucks were used.

MINNESOTA'S
SOLONS VOTE AGAINST DUTY

Washington, May 21.—Minnesota's delegation in the house of representatives at a special meeting today went on record today as opposed to any duty on lumber in the new tariff measure now being drawn. Representative Anderson, Stearnson and Knutson were appointed a special committee to acquaint the ways and means committee with the delegation's views.

Efforts in Parade in the Downtown Streets

The thoughts of many a staid Bismarck business man turned backward as they saw "Daddy" Derrick's family of school children parading the streets of the city last evening bearing a label "I Want a Swimming Pool."

Many a spectator thought sorrowfully of the time when the hushed word spread over the city that a little boy had been drowned in the river while seeking the little recreation of a swim in cold waters.

The eager gleam in the faces of the youth of the city as they thought of their fathers and mothers and other kiddies' fathers and mothers, and perhaps men and women who had no kid dies but wanted to help others, banding together to devote their energies and to make sacrifices that they might have a swimming pool, touched the heart of more than one onlooker.

Hearts Are Set.
The boys and girls of the city have their hearts set on a swimming pool. There is no doubt about that. The Elks committee which visited the schools knows it and they are resolved to bend their energies more than ever to prevent disappointment to the youth of the city.

One citizen today was recounting the lives needlessly sacrificed in the treacherous Missouri and recalling the contamination of Apple Creek and the slimy mud of the ponds and coulees, which he was forced to seek out in his desire to bathe in the water. Too many lives have been sacrificed, the health of too many youngsters endangered, he declared, and he resolved to sacrifice money to aid the cause.

Suggests It Be Memorial.
The new pool in Chester park should be a memorial to the children who have died in the waters near the city, and his thought was echoed by another who heard him.

Perhaps nothing has heartened the Elks committee more than an inquiry which came from a fraternal organization in the city. A representative asked if it would be considered out of place for the organization to add to the fund. No such solicitation can be made, of course, but the individual members of the committee have made it plain that the Elks are simply out to do something for the boys and girls of the city and just as they want to help they hope every organization and every individual will want to help.

There has been a growing feeling among many fraternal organizations that the members have been wont to think of the organization as something through which they may benefit and the correct conception is that the organization is one through which they may aid individuals of the community. It is this spirit which has prompted a number of public efforts by organizations.

High school boys today went over the city selling bags of cement for the swimming pool. They made a house-to-house canvass. The Elks hope that everyone will find it possible to help a bit in the swimming pool, so that it will be a real community project. The solicitation was made in a businesslike manner. The boys carried cards and they understood and were glad, too, that an absolute check was maintained on the canvass.

The Boy Scouts of the city sent representatives to a meeting of Elks last night and tendered their services in the cause.

North Dakota Representative
Says it is Delegating Too Much Power

Washington, May 21.—The house ways and means committee reported today a joint resolution under which new schedules in the permanent tariff bill would be made effective upon introduction of that measure if the committee held that an emergency for such steps required it.

The resolution introduced by Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, was submitted forthwith to the house.

On Party Note.
The action of the committee was by strictly party vote, all Democrats present opposing it. Representative Gardner, Democrat, Texas, a member of the committee, announced that he would reserve all points of order, indicating a Democratic fight against its passage.

Republican members said privately that efforts would be made to rush it through probably next week.

Young Opposes.
Representative Young, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the subcommittee on tariff legislation announced that he had voted against the resolution.

"It is an attempt to delegate executive authority which is prohibited under the constitution," Mr. Young said. "Its enactment would give the ways and means committee powers to fix duties 1,000 per cent high to be put into operation for at least five months and possibly longer."

There was a delegation also of three from South Dakota, who came up for the express purpose of finding out definitely the aims and purposes of the North Dakota State Good Roads association. The delegation was headed at our program and went home Good Roads Boosters for South Dakota.

CHIEF JUSTICE
LAID TO REST
IN WASHINGTON

President and Mrs. Harding
Attending Simple Ceremonies

Washington, May 21.—With honors rendered doubly impressive by the simplicity of the ceremony the body of Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States, was buried today in Oak Hill cemetery.

Lowered flags on public buildings, closed doors of government departments and the dull sounding of a funeral salute from batteries at Fort Myer across the Potomac alone marked outwardly the nation's grief.

A small company had gathered in St. Matthew's church when the hour arrived. Close up to the altar the casket was bent over with flowers and directly behind it President and Mrs. Harding took their places.

PARKING SPACE
IS PROVIDED AT BALL PARK

Anticipating a big crowd at the opening baseball game of the season here tomorrow, the local management announced that it was prepared to handle a much larger crowd than last year.

Special preparations have been made for parking of automobiles for the year. A fence has been erected so that automobiles will stand in exact line and so that it will be easy for motorists to get into a parking place and out again. The arrangement is a great improvement over last year.

The grandstand was rebuilt when it was moved and is of much better shape than last year.

SPORTS

FINAL REQUEST FOR BALL TEAM SUPPORT MADE

Local Committee Hopes to Wind
Up Solicitation Before
Sunday's Game

On Saturday morning teams will be out to secure the balance of the necessary funds to assure Bismarck fans good ball games for the season, the expense of erecting the grandstand and the shaping of the grounds. The expense ran higher than was at first estimated, but the management feels it has the finest ball field in the state, as all outsiders who have seen it have agreed to that fact.

Teams under the leadership of the following will be on the job Saturday morning: R. A. Tracy, Harry Homan, John L. Larson, O. W. Roberts, John L. George, Lee Bankston, H. E. Keller, C. C. Wattam.

It is hoped that at least $2,000 can be secured to assure Bismarck of keeping a first class team all season.

One of the most popular moves made by the local management is in providing the game shall be clean at all hazards. Bob Loubek will be the regular Bismarck umpire, and agreements have been made with every team line-up that there will be no "tagging" at any game, and when there is talking to do the managers will do it. The field has been fenced off to prevent crowding on the diamonds, so that every fan will have a chance to see every play and there will be no delays. The stand of the local management has been well received by all the team managers consulted.

WANTED: NAME FOR BALL PARK AND TOWN TEAM

Wanted—A name for the new ball park and for the city ball club.

Fans and players have been discussing it. Suggestions are invited, and The Tribune will be glad to publish them. Larry Coble, third baseman on the club, suggests the club be called the "Harps" after Alex Harper, manager.

The fans won't have to worry tagging nicknames on the new players, however. They brought them along. They follow:

Catchers—"Chuck" Ellis, "Mel" Anderson.
Pitchers—"Al" Anderson, "Lefty" Higgins.
First Base—"Bill" Andlerf.
Third Base—"Larry" Coble.
Shortstop—"Alex" Harper.
Outfielders—"Joe" Collins, "Pat" Flannagan.
Pitcher Taylor, Second Baseman Swartz and "Mel" Anderson.

REFEREE FOR BIG BATTLE BIG QUESTION

New York, May 20.—Interest in the coming championship battle between Jack Dempsey and George Carpentier, now that both are settled in their permanent training camps, is turning to the selection of the referee. This, owing to the international aspect of the contest, will be a factor of exceptional importance.

In the original contract signed by Dempsey and Carpentier there was included a list of six prominent boxing authorities from which the referee was to be selected. The shifting of the scenes of the fight to the state of New Jersey brings this into conflict with the New Jersey boxing rules, which state that the referee of a bout held there shall be named by the boxing commission of the state.

New York, May 20.—Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavyweight champion, knocked out Joe Cox in the tenth round.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Gardner's single in the eleventh drove in the winning run for Cleveland over Philadelphia, yesterday. Bagby was the winning hurler.

Ty Cobb made a home run in the fifth yesterday with one on, Detroit beat Boston, 3 to 2.

Home runs continue to feature major league wins. Tierney, for Pittsburgh, got a home run and a single, batting in four runs, and Pittsburgh won over Brooklyn, 7 to 5.

Chicago Cubs broke the Giants' winning streak, knocking Neff out of the box. Neff's support was poor, however.

Ten strikeouts by Robertson and four home runs proved the undoing of Columbus yesterday, Minneapolis

STRONG BILL AT REX THEATRE

The Rex Theatre will give in addition to the regular attractions an unusually strong amateur performance tonight. The charm of the popular events lies in the surprises. No numbers are announced until the curtain rises, and some wonderfully clever numbers are always in store. The Sapphire Girls and Ignat and Mike give a change of program tonight. This company have made a host of friends in Bismarck. Their comedy is charming and mirth compelling. The chorus is replete with beauties and graceful dancing. Everyone praises their performance. Adv.

Beating the Southern Pacific's Fastest Limited

The Shasta Limited is the fastest train traveling over the 751 miles of magnificent track between San Francisco and Portland.

But Buick clipped 44 minutes off the best time ever made by this train.

A stock 1921 Buick Coupe on January 7th and 8th performed this remarkable feat. Conquering frozen roads and mud holes, winding mountain roads and rocky canyons, Buick once again demonstrated its characteristics inbuilt power, endurance and reliability. The time of 29 hours, 16 minutes has never been equalled in a trip on land between these two Pacific Coast cities.

KANSAS DEBATE OF LANGER AND TOWNLEY WARMS

Charges Flung Back and Forth
By Men From Same Platform

SOCIALISM IS DISCUSSED

Norton, Kan., May 21.—"Bill Langer says you don't need us fellows to come down from North Dakota to help change things here in Kansas," said A. C. Townley, head of the Nonpartisan league, in his debate here with William Langer, former attorney general of North Dakota.

"Langer says," he continued, "to trust your legislators and present state government. But that is just the trouble. You can't trust your legislators. What you need is a change of government here that will give you a new legislature, a new governor, a new set of state officials, and a new deal for your farmers."

Langer Urges Co-operation.
Mr. Langer had just appealed to the farmers to join hands and unite the strength of existing farm organizations.

"Get your organizations to appoint a joint committee to work out a program of co-operation. That will bring the reforms without tying up to men like Townley, Lomke and Wood, and letting them bankrupt this state as they have North Dakota," said Mr. Langer.

"Take the hall insurance tax, for example. The Farmers' Union of Kansas has a cheaper rate of insurance, and pays without delay, and it carries only five adjusters as against 120 political appointee adjusters in North Dakota, drawing $6 and $7 a day."

Townley Strikes Back.
In the course of his speech, Townley said:

"Langer has stated that all of the state managers appointed were socialists. I defy him to name just one socialist I have appointed in any state."

Langer replied:
"I will name C. Dornan, the J. W. W. and district organizer under Townley, when he was state manager of the socialist party in North Dakota. That is one. And now I defy Townley to name one who was not a socialist."

A voice called: "Give him a minute to name one."

"Sure," answered Langer.

"He can have a minute, or an hour, if he needs it."

Townley slowly arose and named Morser of Colorado, Griffith of Minnesota, Evans of South Dakota, and one or two others. Immediately on his finish, Langer jumped to his feet and said:

"I'm glad Townley named Morser. He was a member of the socialist party at Bowman, N. D. Griffith was a socialist district organizer under Townley and secretary of the Fourth, N. D. local. Evans was secretary of Bowman local in 1913, and all the rest were socialists, and here are the documents. Townley can't deny it."

"Well, they were not members of the socialist party when I appointed them," Townley shouted.

"If they were not, you must have asked them to resign and become republicans a week or two before you appointed them, and I don't believe you did," Langer replied.

INCREASE GIVEN IN RATES FOR CITY OF LISBON

A ten per cent increase in rates has been granted the Lisbon Electric Light and Power company by the state railroad commission. The increase is for six months, dating from May 1, 1921, and is in lieu of a 25 per cent increase granted.

The commission order again reviews the contention of opposition to the increase that the commission does not have power to increase a rate fixed by franchise with a city. The commission holds that the question is well settled that it has such power.

The commission found that the rate paid by the city of Lisbon for street lighting was inadequate, and ordered it increased.

The order cites that an audit of the company was made by the Bishop, Brissman and Company, of St. Paul, with the state commission and the city jointly employing the auditors.

BANKERS CONVENE FOR SLOPE MEET

Dickinson, May 21.—Bankers from nearly every town in western North Dakota invaded Dickinson Friday, to attend the annual meeting of the Missouri Slope Bankers association which convened at the Odd Fellows home yesterday.

W. L. Richards, president of the city commission, gave the address of welcome. The response was made by F. E. Shepard, cashier of the First National bank of Bismarck. Curtis L. Mosher, of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis was the chief speaker of yesterday afternoon.

A general business session yesterday followed the program of talks, a portion of which was given over to the discussion of problems which confront the bankers during these times of acute financial stringency.

Friday evening the bankers were the guests of the Farmers Insurance company at a banquet given at the St. Charles hotel. Dr. V. H. Stickney presided as toastmaster and a program of impromptu toasts was given following the banquet the visitors were the guests of the Dickinson bankers at the St. Cecilia club concert at the Elks' auditorium.

The closing session was called to order at 10 A. M. Saturday and after other unfinished business had been disposed of reports of committees were heard and officers for the coming year were elected.

TRIBUNE WANTS—FOR RESULTS

Essex Advantages Revealed In Long Hard Service

ESSEX gets its long wearing endurance in performance and smooth operation from a special design and the way it is built.

For instance, every one knows how squeaking springs and body rattles destroy riding enjoyment.

Light cars have not alone been at fault in that respect.

"Drove 20,354 Miles In 7 Months"

Gas consumption averaged 19 miles to the gallon. Twenty-five gallons of oil were used. No repairs whatever were made during this period and the engine was not cleaned until approximately 12,000 miles had been covered.

"I have driven cars for the last 6 or 7 years. Cars, with me have to do exceptionally heavy service, and this year will be the first I have ever used the same car for the second season, as I am doing with my Essex."

"My work as a traveling salesman, necessitates covering four Canadian provinces. Part of my way lies through the Metepedia Valley; the roads are so narrow that it is necessary before starting to remove the windshield and top and to bandage the body and mud-guards with heavy cotton in order to keep the finish from being destroyed by the branches and bushes at sides of the roads."

"Naturally it would be hard to sell me anything but an Essex in the future—not only for endurance, but for get-away, 'pep' and all around performance."

P. E. QUAY,
Sherbrooke, Quebec.

But Essex has minimized squeaking bodies by a frame so designed that it does not weave. It has a load capacity that with one exception is greater than that of any other car.

That is why an Essex rides over rutty roads, and cobble stones with a smoothness and freedom from noise entirely unexpected in a car of its size and price.

It is why Essex gives a feeling of rigid solidness to the passenger at any speed and over any road surface.

Throughout the Essex you will find other details not so apparent in casual observation. Their advantages are not noted when comparison is made with new cars. But when Essex has had a seasons use and the advantages of its design and construction become more evident owners grow more and more enthusiastic. Time serves to show many superiorities in the Essex. It is then that its difference as a moderate priced light car becomes so notable. Choose your car for what it will be after a year's service.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY PLEASURES BIG AUDIENCE

"Stop Thief" is Presented at City Auditorium by High School Students

The Juniors have made a record for high school dramatists that will be hard to beat in their play "Stop Thief," given last night at the city auditorium. The three act comedy is one that will admit of neither pause nor rest; it is one rollicking comedy from the time the Carr household, with their gorgeous mother, who depends on her jeweled ear trumpet for her very existence, marshals her complicated household for a wedding.

There is eccentric father, whom the three ultra charming daughters labor strenuously to bring up; the distracted bridegroom, whom circumstances convince that he has suddenly become a kleptomaniac; the doctor, guest who departs from his professional manner to untangle the domestic snags of his host; the "best detective in Rhode Island," the injured party in high finance, together with the heavy of officers of the law, kept busy by a delightful pair of villains. They make up a show worth seeing.

Added to the good live action of the players were the all important matters of stage setting, stage properties, and costumes. There were no home made make-shifts in these details. The furniture and equipment fitted into the clean and new stage setting, touched up with the proper accessories in silver lamps, rugs, etc. The costuming was truly elegant, and the agile young participants wore them with much dash and grace. All the equipment and costumes came from the firms of Lucas, Webb, Knowles and Bergeson. A marked contrast, this home talent play to the efforts of only a few years ago, when the audience was more concerned with tabulating the flimsy and fixtures borrowed from them than they were with the dramatic talent of the players. There was a good house, as shown by the receipts, over $300, $36 of which has already been donated by the high school toward the swimming pool, $75 going to the community council toward beautifying Custer park, and the balance to go into the fund for such interests as the students are fostering.

STATESMEN AT LOGGERHEADS

Battle Will Center Around Turnover Sales Tax

BY H. B. HUNT

Washington, May 21.—Hope of Senate and House leaders that effective teamwork could be developed in shaping the new revenue law seems doomed to failure.

Not only have radical differences developed between House and Senate committee members, but each house is so divided that the 631 separate bills it each had his way.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has not formulated any specific recommendations, and probably will not. Mellon will make suggestions before the Senate finance committee.

Harding's Stand

The specific recommendation in President Harding's message was the repeal of the excess profits tax. "The repeal of the excess profits tax," he said, "is the only one of those which have become unproductive and are so artificial and burdensome as to defeat their own purpose."

Full data is being gathered by experts in the Treasury Department to show whether each sort of tax now collected has proved practicable or has failed. This material Mellon will present before the committee, and on the facts shown the committee will be expected to base its conclusions.

Present Taxes

Taxes now levied by Uncle Sam under the existing law, are of 11 general classes:

Income taxes, both for individuals and corporations.

Excess profits taxes.

Excise taxes, including the so-called "luxury" taxes.

Estate taxes.

Transportation and communication taxes.

Taxes on beverages.

Taxes on cigars and tobacco.

Taxes on admissions and dues.

Special taxes.

Stamp taxes.

Child labor taxes.

It is in the three groups of income, excess profits and excise taxes that the greatest revision by the present Congress is likely.

Next to the repeal of the excess profits tax the changes that may be set down as definite are:

Scaling down of the surtaxes on large incomes.

Increases in corporation tax rates.

Some sort of sales tax.

In addition to these it is probable there will be a return to 3-cent letter postage, 1 cent from the sale of each stamp going into the general revenue; an increase in the tax on stock sales; and the repeal of the majority of the luxury taxes, except those on automobiles, pleasure boats and a few similar articles.

The theory behind the repeal of the luxury taxes would be that a fair tax on all luxury purchases would be secured through the sales tax.

Taxes Multiply

In the case of automobiles, motor cycles, tires and motor accessories and motor boats, yachts and other pleasure craft, under Senator Smoot's proposal the present tax of from 3 to 10 per cent would be collected on the final selling price. In addition, if the turnover type of sales tax be adopted, there would be a 1 per cent tax on each stage of production which involved a sale.

It is over the turnover feature of the sales tax that the biggest fight seems certain to wage.

Smoot's bill is regarded as the basis from which the Senate committee will work. The bill provides:

"In addition to all other taxes, there shall be collected upon ALL GOODS, WARES OR MERCHANDISE, sold or leased on or after July 1, 1921, a tax equivalent to 1 per cent of the price for which sold or leased; such tax to be paid by the vendor or lessor."

The tax, as may be seen, does not apply alone to the final sale, but to every transaction along the line, from the producer of raw materials to the retailer of the finished product.

Next to the sales tax fight will come the battle over revision of the income surtaxes. Figures being gathered by the treasury are expected to show just at what point the high surtaxes begin driving large incomes into tax-free securities.

Present surtax rates run up to 65 per cent on incomes of over $1,000,000. This maximum may be cut to 40 or even 30 per cent.

Shifting the Burden

To offset any losses due to this revision of the higher surtax rates, an increase in corporation taxes will be urged, probably in the way of corporation surtaxes.

Slope Bar Seems To Favor Crawford

Dickinson, N. D., May 21.—Fully 80 per cent of the members of the bar of the Missouri Slope district have declared themselves in favor of Wm. C. Crawford, former judge of the Stark county district, for the appointment of federal judge for North Dakota.

Mr. Crawford retired from the district bench only a few months ago, after having served since 1908.

Judge Crawford came to Dickinson in 1903, prior to which time he practiced law in Cedar county, Missouri, where he was twice elected states attorney in his county.

EMISSARIES HOWARD BOUND Washington, D. C., May 21.—B. F. Spaulding and L. L. Twichell of Fargo, who have spent a week in Washington with reference to the proposed appointment of a new federal judge, left for their homes Thursday afternoon. While in Washington they interviewed the president, the attorney general and members of the house and senate committees on judiciary.

lected the views of the attorneys of North Dakota, that the appointment should be made on the basis of merit only, and without political consideration.

It is expected now that the judiciary bill by Senator McCumber will be reported by the house committee next Tuesday, but that it probably will remain on the house calendar several weeks before it can be reached.

SAM CRABBE LOSES FINE JERSEY HERD

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—Thirty-nine head of Jersey cattle from the Sam Crabbe Jersey prize herd, including two or three state champions, perished in flames which early yesterday afternoon destroyed the barn on the South Park Jersey farm.

Missing from the herd is Challenger Relay, four-year-old champion, who last year established the state record for butterfat, and is believed by J. R. Frisbey, foreman of the farm, to be in the lot that perished.

No estimate as to the loss was made by Foreman Frisbey yesterday afternoon, who claimed that some of the cattle were priceless. Sam F. Crabbe, proprietor of the famous herd and farm, is at his cottage, near Detroit, Minn. Efforts were made to locate him.

Estimate Loss at 39 Head The estimate as to the number of head of purebred cattle lost was made by Foreman Frisbey after he personally made a count of 31 live head in the pasture. He said that one young Jersey bull was lost.

Employees of the South Park Jersey farm rushed into the barn about 12.30, when it suddenly burst into flames, in an attempt to save the cattle in the structure, some on which tests had been finished and others on which tests had been started.

World-Recovery Sure If Germany Does Not Default

The start of real world-recovery is seen by many in Germany's eleventh-hour acceptance of the terms imposed by the Allied Reparations Commission—unless Germany defaults on her agreement. By this submission—delayed until the shadow of French invasion lay black across the Ruhr valley—"a tremendous meanness is lifted from the world," declares the New York Herald, which bids the nations rejoice "at the new prospect of peace, tranquility, and stability." A Paris dispatch quotes Thomas W. Lamont, the American banker, who, during the Treaty negotiations, was financial adviser to the United States Government, as saying that German acceptance of the reparations program means "salvation for Germany, and a new era for the rest of Europe," and the New York Daily News admonishes us that "this is an excellent time for the people of the United States of America to stop worrying and go back to work."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents American public opinion upon the effect that Germany's surrender will have upon the peace and future prosperity of the world. It also shows the total amount Germany must pay to the Allied nations, how it is to be paid, and how it is to be divided.

Lettuce even may be washed through the first water at a tepid temperature. The last water should be cold in order to chill the leaves thoroughly.

LUNCHEON—Dried lima beans in cream, beet salad, cheese crackers, cocoa.

DINNER—Rolled flank of beef, mashed potatoes, canned corn, pickles, rhubarb pie, coffee.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

A REAL APPETITE

Order of the Golden Fleece archives are claimed by Belgian and Austria, and the ownership is being described by a jury appointed by the Reparations Committee.

Charles V was a knight in the order when he died in 1556.

The archives show he was represented for guilt. Under examination he admitted he often ate four meals a day, starting with "the best part of a chicken at 5 a. m."

Guilty by the few in those times was matched often by starvation fare for the many. Perhaps the few who ate so much ate from pride, because they could get it.

Charles' great eating would impress some men today, not with distaste for his excesses, but with envy of his enormous appetite.

It didn't take a monkey to prove that kings are but human after all.

MAN'S LAND

Backward fellows who can't reconcile themselves to the new political order of equal suffrage, may find some consolation in the thought that America is the only continent not named after a woman.

Until the discovery of continental America by Americus Vesputius all the honors in the christening of continents had gone to woman. Wherefore it occurred to Waldseemüller, a sixteenth century geographer, to demand that mere man be given a show in the naming of the newest continent.

He was not merely mouthed in expressing himself on the subject. In his book, "Cosmographic Introductio," printed in 1507, he wrote thus: "I do not see why any one should rightly object to calling it Amerigo or America, i. e., land of Americus, after its discoverer, a man of sagacious mind—since Europe, Asia and Africa are named after women."

Waldseemüller's suggestion was accepted by the geographers and so the land that Columbus had discovered was named after another, because to his dying day Columbus himself did not know he had found a new land, but thought he had merely blazed a new trail to the East Indies.

Heavy gambling is going on at Deauville. Returned soldiers call it Doughville.

NO TEST OF TRUTH

Freedom of thought has never been welcome. Copernicus dared not publish the heliocentric theory. Galileo was exiled and persecuted until he retracted the "heresy of the movement of the earth." Roger Bacon was imprisoned for many years on account of his theories regarding physical phenomena, and Bruno was murdered for his scientific heresies. Servetus was convicted because he asserted that Jerusalem was a barren place and not "flowing with milk and honey." When Calvin decided to have him burned, one of the grounds of his conviction was that he believed in the antipodes—that physical existence of people on the opposite side of the earth.

Three hundred years ago an opinion on theology that would not be considered orthodox subjected the conscientious person to unlimited physical torture at the hands of devout theologians. Two hundred years ago in the United States the belief that people are "possessed of the Devil," and the justice of witch burning, were prevalent. A hundred and fifty years ago it was necessary for a gentleman to defend his honor by dueling. A hundred years ago William Lloyd Garrison was dragged through the streets of Boston with a rope around his waist for advocating the abolition of slavery.

In every case the theories or opinions then universally held to be right are now universally held to be wrong and the opposite right.

Is it not well, therefore, when unorthodox and perhaps unpleasant opinions and theories are held by people today, to remember that a hundred or three hundred years from now the opinion which most men today condemn may turn out to have been right?

Orthodoxy is not test of truth.

Do you remember the old-time butcher, with a mustache like a worn-out paint brush, who "threw in" a soup bone and some dog meat and gave son a nice large Weiner?

FIJI ISLANDERS STRIKE

You've seen Fiji Islanders in the movies. It develops that these super-brunet gentlemen, when they aren't posing with their spears and straw skirts before movie cameras, work in the sugarcane fields.

Also, they have labor unions. Right now they're striking. Here's what they demand:

"Three dollars per day of six hours. Five days per week, with Saturday and Sunday as clear holidays. Half-pay in case of sickness. Employers to provide each native worker free with two-room cottage, table, two chairs, bed, mattress, screen, bathroom and lavatory, free medical attendance, five acres of land for a garden, and one horse, one bull and four cows to be provided free."

"The employers are staggered at the demands," says a news report.

Many an American employer will squirm in his swivel chair and moan soft sympathy for the Fiji Islands employer who has a head-hunter picketing the front door.

The clock is striking 12 on the romantic day of the pearl hunter and the copra gatherer who leg-ironed his tropical slaves and flayed them with the dried rasp-like skin of a snark fish.

Lillian Russell registered at 48 and it wouldn't be gallant for any gray-haired theater-goer to figure back to his gallery days.

NOT THE WARD-HEELER'S WAY

Frederick W. Sefton, new city manager of Salina, Kas., up to three years ago was a stenographer, at $100 a month.

Just like a good many men in Bismarck.

All his life, Sefton had learned that the only way to succeed is to stick with your employer.

After sticking 20 years without results, Sefton, quit his job in a Wichita railroad office.

(That old theory of sticking to your employer depends a whole lot on whether he's the kind worth sticking to—and whether you can make the most of your own abilities through association with him.)

When Sefton quit his railroad job Wichita was just trying out the city management plan of municipal government. A Kansas City engineer named Ash was running the town—and on a business basis, without regard to politics.

That idea appealed to Sefton. He became Ash's stenographer, then his private secretary. Four months later, Sefton had made himself so valuable that Ash promoted him to city auditor. A year later he was made director of finance.

Two years ago, Sefton became Wichita's assistant city manager at a salary of $4,000 a year. Then Salina wanted a city manager and offered Sefton $5,000. He took the job.

There is inspiration in Sefton's career. Hundreds of thousands of men and women of real ability are barely making a living, because they haven't found the right job.

More important: Salina's city manager was hired for his ability, for what he could do. That isn't the ward-heeler's system but it gets results.

Allies find the Poles full of splinters.

Some stores seem to have more floorwalkers than clerks.

In every country town, there is some fellow who seems never to do anything except sharpen an ax.

Pretty soon newspapers may be running extras whenever Babe Ruth doesn't make a home run.

Girls are to wear waterproof bathing suits this summer. Hence they may risk getting near enough the water to be splashed.

French hatmakers are trimming the newest lids with bits of sponge instead of plumes. It's easier to soak you with a sponge.

Good wishes and congratulations, too, for the New York society girl who married the man she loved although he was a policeman.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

ON THE HOOF AND IN THE PAN

Beef on the hoof is now at a record low price, but don't get the idea that there will be a drop in the price of sirloin rib roasts in the near future. The mills of the packers grind slowly, and they grind exceedingly small—for the consumer. From Chicago comes the information that there has been little killing of cattle—just enough to supply the demand, and that no decrease in retail prices can be expected until a surplus is accumulated in the icehouses. Just how long the company will have to wait to share in the benefits accruing from marked down heifers may be deduced from the hog situation. More than a year ago pork in bulk reached approximate pre-war levels, yet the retail price is far in excess of what it was in 1914. We ought to get a sirloin steak pretty cheap along about 1928, providing nothing happens, but of course something will.—St. Louis Star.

POPPY, FLOWER MADE FAMOUS DURING WAR, IS EMPHASIZED MEMORIAL WEEK

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The Larks, still bravely singing, fly.
Scarce heard amid the sounds below.
We are the dead, Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

—Lieut. John D. McCrae.

Poppies and Flanders fields! Regardless of past associations, the World War has crowned that flower with a sanctity all its own, and from now on, the "red poppy" will be known as the "memory flower" and the official flower of the A. E. F.

No doubt it was Lieut. John D. McCrae's tribute poem, "In Flanders Fields," that gave the poppy its new significance. Lieut. McCrae, a Doctor from Montreal, Canada, wrote the poem during the second battle of Ypres April 1915. Today Lieut. McCrae is also "sleeping in the poppy fields" that he immortalized in his poem having been killed in action in Flanders, Jan. 28, 1918.

POPPY DAY MAY 30

"If ye break faith with those who die—We shall not sleep, though poppies grow in Flanders fields," says the second verse of the poem and it is to remind us of this faith of our dead heroes that Monday this year May 30 will be Poppy day.

This day will be heralded by what will be known as Poppy week, beginning May 28th. The Ladies Auxiliary of Lloyd Spots Post No. 1 of the American Legion will be in charge of the poppies and will pin a poppy on every one. All business places will be asked to arrange for Poppy decorations during poppy week.

Poppy Headquarters will be established in the American Legion Hall on Fourth Street.

SITE FOR PLANT ON MISSOURI HAS HISTORY

Moberly, S. D., May 21.—Ashley Island in the Missouri river a short distance above here, the site selected by the engineers for the proposed state owned hydro-electric plant, on which citizens of the state will vote at the November election in 1922, has been a point of unique interest in South Dakota history for nearly a century. Here on the morning of June 2, 1823 occurred the first act of Christian worship of which there is a record in this region.

It was the notable prayer over the dead and dying of Ashley's little band who fell in the Red massacre of that morning—a prayer so appealing that even rough old Hugh Glass, one of the most notable rough characters of Dakota's early history, noted that "it was a powerful prayer and moved us all greatly."

This island first appears upon the map of Lewis and Clark, who reached it on October 8, 1804. They called it "Island au Brim," possibly because it was shaped like the brim fish, but it may be from the French word "brimado," meaning practical joke because of the smartness of a negro servant by the name of York.

Close by the mouth of Wakpala creek, the island has not changed its position since Lewis and Clark's visit. Captain Clark's record of his visit to the island, written in his characteristic abbreviated form, and with the peculiar spelling and punctuation of the early eighteenth century is "as follows:

"From the mouth of Maropa (Wakpala), one mile to the lower pt. of Isd. North 3 1/2 miles to a pt. on the S. barboard (side) and the head of the Isd and the 1st picketree village opposed a creek we called after the 1st Chief Kakawissassa Creek, Lick board (side). Two of our men discovered the picketree village about the center of the Isd on the L. side on the main shore. This island is three miles separated from the L. S. by a channel of about 60 yards wide very deep. The Isd is covered with fields where those people raise their corn, tobacco, beans, etc. Great numbers of those people came on the island to see us pass. We passed above the head of the island and Capt. Lewis with two interpreters and two men went to the village. I formed a camp of the French and the guard on shore with one sentinel on board the boat at anchor. A pleasant evening all things arranged for peace or war. This village is situated about the center of a large island near the L. side and near the foot of some high bald uneven hills."

From this statement it would be hard to determine whether the village was upon the island or the mainland, but Glass, one of the men who visited the village that evening, October 8, 1804, with Captain Lewis, sets the matter straight when he says: "On our return I crossed from the island to our boat with two squads in a buffalo skin stretched on boughs like a cradle or basket."

The Indians were invited to the camp, the narrative continues, where they appeared in large numbers and where "Those Indians were much astonished at my servant York. They had never seen a black man before and all flocked around him and examined him from top to toe. He carried on the joke and made himself more terrible than we wished him to do."

In another note Clark says York told the Indians he was formerly a wild animal, caught and tamed by Captain Clark. When he got back to St. Louis, York greatly excited the negroes there with wonderful tales of the exploits of a black drum major who had conquered the hosts of wild men in the upper Missouri.

The island was called Brim until 1823, when the massacre of Ashley's men occurred at the upper villages. From that time it appears on the maps as Ashley Island.

In 1833 Prince Maximilian notes: "We came to an island covered with willows, which on the large map of Lewis and Clark has an Arickara village, of which there is no trace left."

The site selected for the proposed power plant is near the lower end of the island so that the locks and powerhouse may be located in the eastern channel with the spillway in the western channel.

DINNER WITH JACK

The Easy Things Is Usually

The Correct Thing

By Ruth Agnes Ab-ling
It is terrifying in prospect—that first dinner at the hotel with Jack. There are so many little things which, according to their doing or not doing, make or mar the girl. With a man, it's quite different. He is forgiven for his blunders, sometimes even liked for them, because they are attributable to his masterful disregard of things in general.

But a girl—never! She must be on to all of the little niceties—especially when she is dining with Jack!

In the first place, when the supercilious personage, who stands so correctly in the dining room door directs you to the waiter to follow to your table, don't rush ahead of Jack! Remember that you have the evening before you, and in the graceful fashion of the French woman, walk beside him or just a trifle ahead of him.

If you were dining with a woman, since you are walking a trifle ahead just as you reach the table, you would take the farther chair which the attendant pulls out. But since you are with Jack, take the nearest and thus give him the opportunity of easily helping you with your wraps—even though the waiter is there to assist you, Jack should show you that attention.

Ordering
As for napkins—as long as you don't tuck it under your chin—there will be no harm done! However, the absolutely correct thing for the dinner size is to leave it in the double fold, that facilitates using it to dry your lips before drinking and thus eliminates the soil-edged glass.

In order—if Jack is quite one to what he should do—he will consult your wishes on the principal foods and then order. If he leaves it very much to yourself, order moderately. The well-bred girl will not order extravagantly just because a man is paying for her meal.

Kaffe and Spoon
Remember that when not in use, your knife should be entirely on your plate, don't let it trail from the edge of your plate to the tablecloth. And be sure that when you put your shorbet or ice cream spoon down, to eat your cake, that you put it on the plate under the cup or special service dish. A spoon should never be left in a stemmed dessert container or cup.

Perhaps your waiter will put the coffee urn with the two cups at your plate. If he does pour it for both and consult Jack as to sugar and cream. He may arrange it for Jack to serve, or may serve it himself. A cigaret, with his coffee, if Jack wishes is quite correct.

Leaving
For finger bowl service—put the tips of your fingers in the bowl, then dry them on the napkin. Then moisten the cleansed finger tips again, touch them to the napkin and pass it across your lips.

In leaving the table—give Jack an opportunity to assist you with your wraps, then either walk out beside him or very slightly behind him. There now! Your dinner is over.

CURTAIN RISES ON 1921 BASEBALL SEASON

WILTON PLAYS OPENING GAME WITH BISMARCK

Lignite City Team Comes to Bismarck Confident of Winning Game

Play Ball!
The umpire will call it out in Bismarck Sunday afternoon for the first big game of the season.
The gates of the new baseball park will open at 2:30 P. M., and the game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock. An immense crowd is expected from Wilton, Mandan and Bismarck and fans are urged to get to the park early to get seats.
If the weather man is kind the fans will see a fast game to start the season. Wilton places a lot of confidence in "Spike" Flaherty, pitcher, who formerly worked in middle-western leagues. His showing already this season, starting him as a hurler of no mean ability. Bismarck's reliance will be "Lefty" Higgins, southpaw, who has a fine record in college baseball thus far this season. One of his best games was against the University of Wisconsin, rated as the star conference baseball team.

Field Is Fast.
The park is in fine condition. The infield is fast, perhaps a little too fast, and fielders will have to be on their toes.

Wilton Confident.
If Swartz, signed to try on second base, arrives today he may be in the game, as he has been playing and is in splendid condition.

An indication of the confidence of the Wilton fans in their team and especially in the pitcher is that some supporters have already offered to back the team in the game.

BASEBALL'S OPENING GUN BOOMS

DEMPSEY ONCE USED FREIGHT TO VISIT HOME

Ready Cash Was Scarce When Champion Began Pugilistic
Climb

This story of Jack Dempsey's career has been written for The Tribune by Hal Cochran on information much of which was furnished by Dempsey himself. The rest was obtained from Dempsey's close acquaintances and official records.

BY HAL COCHRAN.
Chapter II.

Freddie Woods was willing to admit that he could lick anybody in Montrose, Col., with the possibility of Jack Dempsey. And he made this one exception because he had never mixed punches with Jack. They had been good pals.

When Jack landed back in Montrose, Freddie was the first fellow he looked up.

"Half the folks in this town think you can lick me," Jack told him, "and the rest of them think I can lick you. Let's stage a go and settle it. A lot of folks will pay money to see us scrap."

Woods agreed and Dempsey rented Moose hall. He put out handbills, did some ballyhooing and advertised a dance to follow the fight.

Jack Scores a K. O.
When the people of the town started drifting in, Jack was at the door selling tickets. After customers ceased to come he went up stairs and donned a pair of trunks. Then the battle was on.

It only took Jack four rounds to knock Woods cold.

"He slapped me pretty hard, as Jack now recalls it, 'but I slapped him a bit harder. Woods knew a lot about boxing and all I could do was slam. One of those slams went home—and the dance was on!'"

Dempsey helped stage the dance and afterwards paid Woods $15 as his share. Jack had other expenses to meet and when he got through settling up, found that he had broken about even.

Out for Reputation.
The bout, however, gave Jack a lot of confidence, and realizing that he was shy on a real reputation as a boxer he set out to gather one. Spalio, who turned up around Colorado and Utah and Jack went from place to place, either in, on, or underneath a freight car.

He was ready to battle whenever there was a little piece of change in it. He seldom argued over what he was to be paid, however, and seemed to love, mainly, the idea of stepping into anything that looked like a fight. In a great many of his early fights he gave away much weight to his opponents.

Every now and then Jack would bum a freight ride back home to see the folks. His vacation from fighting was when he turned to picking peaches. Many folks in Montrose still remember him as the youngster who used to pitch their hay, do odd carpenter jobs around the house and swing a scythe when reaping season was on.

Adds to His Laurels.
Dempsey's next fight came with Andy Malloy, a Montrose youth who had battled with Bernard Dempsey and had taken an interest in Jack. He offered to mix mits with Jack and once more Moose hall was rented. Malloy was well known and proved a drawing card. He placed was lamed. Dempsey climbed higher in the town's esteem when he laid Malloy low in three rounds.
Malloy was paid $100, on the strength of his reputation and his drawing power. Jack once more settled other expenses and found himself just where he had started, financially.

JOSH WISE ON THE FIGHT

BY JACK RAPER.
Carpenter had little to say when he landed. He is a man of few words. English words.

The Frenchman is said to be the best dressed prizefighter ever seen in this country. The best dressed one we ever heard of was Jess Willard, at the end of the third round at Toledo.

Carpenter brought over some of his decorations. He may take back more than he brought over.

You hear a lot of talk about the fighters being in the pink. But the fighters' favorite color is the long green.

Jack Johnson will not be released from the penitentiary until after the fight. So he will not be at the ringside to add color to the event.

Dempsey says the training will be done in secret. He acts like a college football team.

All the prizefight experts say the Frenchman will use his head. No butting, Georges, no butting!

Likewise they predict that Dempsey will wade in. Is he going to fight with his feet?

Everybody in prizefight circles is talking about the best man winning. Is it to be a waddler?

Ten to 1 this fight doesn't go more than 12 rounds.
